Dupre To Begin Development

by KAREN WILTBERGER

After 25 years of patiently waiting, longtime Antioch resident John Dupre will begin to develop 13.5 acres on the northwest corners of Rtes. 83 and 173.

The Antioch Village Board gave Dupre, 72, and his partner and son, Jack Dupre, the necessary zoning to build an $8 million development which will include a motel, apartment complex, business center and perhaps a professional building.

The board rezoned the residential corner to B3, R5 Special Use and R5 zoning after a unanimous recommendation of the zoning board.

"I've been watching this property for 25 years but it never came on the market," said Dupre, who was born and raised in Antioch.

Dupre's petition was denied by the planning commission because he hadn't been able to answer several questions to a group of concerned residents living near the site.

But when the petition hit the zoning board and the village board, Dupre was much better prepared.

"He was able to answer any question that public members of the meeting requested," said Michael Warren, of Century 21 and head of the redevelopment commission.

Dupre's plans for the prime location may break ground as early as spring and are expected to take two years to complete. The first phase of the development is a $3 million hotel of 100 to 125 units followed by a $2.4 million business center on four lots, which may include a gas station or fast food restaurant.

A $2.56 million 64-unit apartment complex overlooking Lake Antioch would be next on the agenda. A professional building is being discussed, Dupre said, but no final plans (Continued on Page 3A)

More Families To Receive Food Under New Program

by KAREN WILTBERGER

More Antioch area families are expected to receive food baskets this holiday season under a plan to distribute baskets to the needy.

The Antioch Lions and Rotary Clubs have organized a plan where the names of needy families are compiled into one list. Names are given by civic organizations, Antioch Twp., Food Pantry, as well as local schools and churches.

After the names are gathered, they go to the township where a list is compiled and later divided among organizations that give food and other items, such as gift certificates.

The intent of the plan is to cut down the duplication of food baskets given to one family so that more baskets will be available for other needy families, said Tim Osmond, chairman of the Lions and Rotary effort.

"So far," Osmond said, "it's working out pretty well."

Antioch Twp. Sup. Jim Fields said that about 80 local families will receive baskets from the various organizations. He said the township gave 33 baskets at Thanksgiving and expects to give the same over Christmas. Last year the township gave some 45 baskets, but the names were found to be duplicates of those that received baskets from other organizations, Fields said.

Fields said the township also will give nearly $500 in Ben Franklin gift certificates this year intended to be used for children.

Osmond said the Lions and Rotary Clubs gave 36 baskets over Thanksgiving and are expected to give the same number over Christmas. Included in the baskets will be $10 certificates for the downtown Thrift Shop, sponsored by the Antioch Mental Health Assn.

Ten dollars goes a long way in the thrift shop, Osmond said, adding that the association helps the needy all year around.

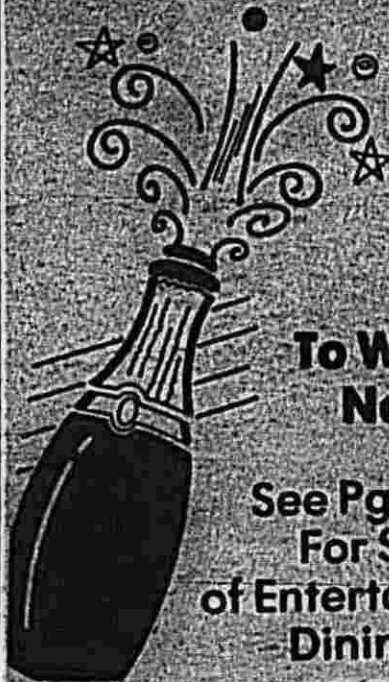

He added that some local churches have chosen to provide food baskets, too.

The Food Pantry, a yearlong community organization, so far has three families on its Christmas list. But, according to Chairman Betty Lu Williams, the winter has only begun.

Judge Issues A Gag Order In Murder Trial

By SUSAN MONTGOMERY

Two Mundelein High School students charged with the murder of a Vernon Hills man and the attempted murder of his companion received a nine-count indictment before a grand jury.

A third person, 21-year-old Wayne J. Rogers of Mundelein, was also charged in the killing.

Assistant State's Atty. Mike Fusz said that Milton Muntaner, 19, and Kristine C. Locascio, 17, and Rogers have been indicted on four counts of murder, attempted murder, armed murder and conspiracy to commit armed robbery.

The three have been held in connection with the shooting death of 20-year-old Stephan McNulty on Dec. 6 and the wounding of his companion, John Grant, 20, of Northbrook, during what investigators are calling a phony drug deal.

McNulty was shot three times in the head, Lake County Chief Investigator Willie Smith said. Grant suffered a gunshot wound in his left shoulder and was grazed near the head by a second bullet.

According to Smith, McNulty and Grant had arranged to meet with the other three to buy drugs. Police, however, did not find any drugs at the scene nor on any of the suspects or victims.

The shooting, which took place along Gilmer Rd. occurred shortly after Rogers joined McNulty in a van driven by Grant. Muntaner and Locascio followed in a second vehicle.

Smith said the van pulled over to the side of the road at approximately 8:30 p.m. near the intersection of Gilmer and Schwermann Rds. when the shots were fired.

Grant feined death until he had the opportunity to drive away.

The suspects are being held without bond in the Lake County Jail. A pre-trial for both Muntaner and Rogers has been set for Jan. 13. The trial date will be Feb. 3.

Locascio's attorney has requested an arraignment date be delayed until Dec. 19.

Lake County Associate Judge Alvin Ira Singer issued a gag order last week prohibiting attorneys and law enforcement officers involved in the case to make any comments to the press.

Emmons Looks To Fill Board Seat By Jan. 31

Emmons School Dist. 33 Board member Richard Becker has put in his resignation after 10 years on the school's board of trustees. Becker, who had served as board president for several years, decided to resign because of business commitments, school officials said. He will finish his unfulfilled term on Dec. 31.

The board is seeking to replace Becker's seat by Jan. 31. The seat is up for election in November 1987.

Anyone who is interested in the appointment may pick up an application in the Emmons School office. The completed application should be turned in to the same office by 3 p.m. on Friday, Jan. 10.

Candidates for the membership of boards of education are required to be: citizens of the United States, 18 years of age or older, residents of the State of Illinois and the school district for at least one year, and registered voters.

have been made.

Dupre was just one of several developers who were interested in purchasing the corner, said Warren, whose company is brokering the transaction. He said several prospective buyers were interested in developing a shopping mall.

"Dupre's development is a useful thing for the community because it gives us modern motel accommodations which we desperately need for out-of-town and passing traffic," said Warren.

According to Dupre's financial statement, the development may be the biggest moneymaking development that Antioch has ever seen.

Dupre anticipates the motel will attract an annual 45,000 visitors who will spend nearly $1 million in the Village of Antioch. He expects the tenants of the apartment complex to spend nearly $2 million in the area.

The village will also reap the benefits of the development, according to Dupre. It is estimated the village will collect $75,000 in permits and fees, an annual $165,540 in property taxes and an annual $35,000 in sales taxes. Sewage and water costs have not yet been determined for the entire complex, but the apartments are estimated to bring an annual $21,300 to the village.

"It's a very big venture. I'm going to have to work to swing it and get it all done but I think we can do it," Dupre explained. "I'm quite sure this will be a quite successful venture for the village."

Dupre said some residents have opposed the development throughout the village meetings with some valid objections.

"I've lived with these people my entire life. They're nice people," Dupre said. "But this corner is going to be developed one way or another. If I don't do it, somebody else will."

Dupre, whose father spent his life in Antioch as a contractor (and helped build the first fire station), built and has operated the Coral Apartments (named after his mother, Cora,) 760 Main St. for 25 years. For 30 years prior to that Dupre worked in heating and air conditioning and in the sheet metal business.

Jack Dupre resides in Texas with his family, but may relocate to the area because of the development, Dupre said.

Emmons Band Bigger Than Ever

Emmons School Dist. 33 may be the smallest district in Antioch, but when it comes to band programs the grade school has by far the largest participation rate of all the schools.

The Emmons instrumental program consists of two bands—beginning band, which consists mainly of fourth graders, and concert band, which consists primarily of fifth through eighth graders.

While the school (K-8th grade) has a total enrollment of only 180, the band programs this year has attracted some 80 students.

The attraction started two years ago when Beverly Kramer became director.

She has increased participation by 50 percent.

Over the last year, participation in the concert band has jumped from 68 percent to 90 percent (56 students). In the 21-member, beginning band, participation skyrocketed last year with a 100 percent participation rate, but dropped slightly this year because two children who had indicated they wanted to join had conflicts in their schedules.

What makes a band program in such a small school be so popular? Kramer, who has taught third and fourth grades for 16 years, doesn't like to think she is the determining factor. However, Kramer, a well-liked teacher starting to instruct a second generation of students, just may be the reason.

"I expect a lot from them and the kids need that," Kramer said. "They enjoy showing me what they can do."

A wider selection of music may also what attracts so many students. Kramer directs many types of music, including waltzes, marches, suites, concertos and even rock.

"The students at Emmons enjoy band and look forward to rehearsal. Instrumental music is a part of a student's well-rounded educational program," she said, pointing out the importance of other programs.

Kramer is not new to the music scene. When she first joined the Emmons staff, she was involved with the music, but the school didn't need a band director.

Twelve years ago, Kramer's husband, Ed, who is the band instructor at Big Hollow School in Ingleside, started the band program at Emmons. After his departure and before her arrival, the band program has seen several other directors.

But with Kramer's enthusiasm, she seems to have what it takes to keep the Emmons program on top. With a nearly 100 percent participation rate in all grades but eighth, she figures next year will be even more promising.

"I find the students to be enjoyable to teach and each day to be a new and rewarding experience," Kramer said. "I love teaching and they're good kids."

The Pullman Players will hold auditions for this Pulitzer Prize winning play at 8 p.m. on Monday, Dec. 16, Tuesday, Dec. 17 and Wednesday, Dec. 18 in the Transfiguration Old Church Theatre in Wauconda.

There are 19 roles to be filled, five major women's roles and six major men's parts with several good character roles available.

"We didn't want to disappoint anyone," said Ellen Reid Eastman, chairman of the board.

Tickets for the 4:30 concert are priced at $7 for adults and $5 for students and senior citizens. Both performances will be held in Barat College's Drake Theatre, 700 E. Westleigh Rd., Lake Forest.

Bach's "Magnificat" highlights the program which also includes excerpts from Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker," Humperdinck's overture to "Hansel and Gretel," Telemann's setting of Psalm 117 and a medley of traditional Christmas music. The concert finishes with selections from Handel's "Messiah" and the audience is invited to join forces with the chorus and orchestra in the "Hallelujah."

The Lake Forest Symphony Chamber Chorus will present favorite Christmas music in the Drake Theatre lobby before the 7:30 p.m. concert.

Kirk Players' Donations Support Local Agencies

The Mundelein-based Kirk Players have recently donated over $2,500 to three local service organizations.

The announcement was made by Jesse Becker, the Players financial director. The Player's net profits from the 1984-85 subscription series was $2,522.48. Plays included "The Male Animal," "Honesty, Now!" and "Shock."

Profits were donated to Greenhouse Youth Services, the Austin No. 84 Drill Corps of Glenview, and Pup Tent

No. 67 of the Military order of the Cootie.

Organizations selected to receive the donations had participated in promoting and selling tickets for various plays. Contributions were based on individual profits earned from the show promoted by the particular organization.

Greenhouse Youth Services, which received $1,150, helped sponsor "The Male Animal" and "Hide and Seek." Proceeds will aid various activities and programs for young people in the Fremont and Libertyville townships sponsored by Greenhouse.

The Austin Drill Corps received $947.48 which will go towards purchasing new plumes for competition uniforms. They sponsored "Shock."

According to Players Director and founder John W. Lynn, total donations for this season was exceeded only by last year's record of $3,063.78.

Local Teachers Seek $2,500 Nomination

Teachers in the Lakeland area are currently seeking nominations to induct into the first annual Academy of Educators. The organization looking for these teachers, who should possess outstanding qualities, is the Foundation for Excellence in Teaching. Winning teachers will receive $2,500, a paid fall-term sabbatical to study at Northwestern University, tuition-free classes at Northwestern and a special seminar program with leaders of the Chicago-area professional and business community. Awards will be presented in a live televised special broadcast on WTTW-Channel 11 in June, 1986.

To assure public participation in the search, the foundation is making a vigorous attempt to reach all teachers, parents, students and administrators involved with Lake, Cook and DuPage county high schools with news of the academy competition. Completed nomination forms must be submitted to the Foundation for Excellence in Teaching no later than Jan. 15, 1986.

Support for the new tribute to teachers is mobilizing. Many public organizations have responded favorably and are assisting in spreading the word. Five thousand "Pick a Winning Teacher" posters, each bearing 25 postage-paid nomination forms, have been distributed throughout the tri-county area to all Chicago Park District fieldhouses and all public, parochial, and private high schools and colleges as well as in all Dominicks, Finer Foods Stores, Treasure Island Food Stores, Chicago Boys' Clubs and YWCAs.

Said Peter Klein, director of recreation for the Chicago Park District in accepting posters for distribution, "We are happy to cooperate with your organization.... I'm sure any information relative to this project can be displayed for the purpose of reaching as many individuals as possible and so to create more interest in this worthwhile purpose."

Also available are five thousand three-color, four-page brochures explaining the program which has been sent to school administrators, teachers, parent-teacher groups, student councils and professional organizations active in the high schools.

For more information on the Academy of Educators program, a brochure and a nomination form, contact The Foundation for Excellence in Teaching, 1830 Sherman Ave., Suite 304, Evanston, IL 60201 or phone (312) 869-1475.

Pet Of The Week

This mischievous pair just couldn't wait any longer—they decided they'd better get started on the Christmas decorating themselves. The Lewandowski family of Silver Lake, Wis. are the lucky owners of this team. Zackary, a miniature collie and Pomeranian mix, loves tugging at the garland on the Christmas tree while Rowdy, the feline half of this duo, prefers climbing the tree. Both pets are about seven weeks old. Why not introduce your pet to Lakeland readers. Just contact the editor of this newspaper.

Seal it up!
The SealMaster Magnetic Interior Insulating Window

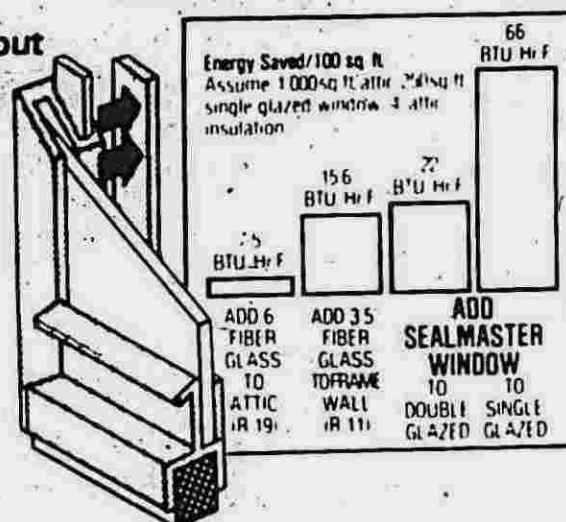

SealMaster windows seal in heat like a refrigerator door seals it out, with a continuous, magnetic, air tight seal. And they are crystal clear acrylic, a much better insulating material than glass. Installed properly, they will cut energy losses 40% or more.

SealMaster windows seal out much more cold than a good storm window. And usually cost less. SealMaster windows eliminate 90% of the air infiltration through your windows, about 20 times more than a storm window.

SealMaster windows are installed inside and easy to clean, easy to lift off and store.

SealMaster windows are easily made to fit most odd-shaped windows. Even drafty patio doors. They are the best way to seal up casement and jalousie windows. Excellent for commercial glazing and window walls.

Christmas At Allendale

The American Legion 10th Dist. Auxiliary visited Allendale School For Boys Dec. 7 for a buffet lunch, in celebration of the Christmas holiday. State Fire Marshal Gives Safety Tips

For a fire-safe holiday, the Office of the State Fire Marshal offers a reminder of how to save lives and property loss from fire during the gala holiday season.

State Fire Marshal Harold L. Schmeilski points out "since half of Americans are unprotected by smoke detectors in their homes, this is a good time to install one for year 'round fire safety."

"Have an escape plan and practice EDITH (Exit Drills In The Home). Instruct the babysitter in fire emergency procedures," Schmeilski suggested.

A list of do's and don'ts may seem contrary to the holiday spirit, but appreciation and practice of it may save lives.

NATURAL TREES—Be sure the tree is fresh, not dyed green. Except for the tree having been stored in extremely cold weather, the needles should be supple and bend, not snap. When bumped on the ground, only a few old needles should fall; a rain of needles indicates a dry, hazardous tree. The cut end should be sticky from sap.

Before decorating, cut one inch off the bottom of the tree to improve water absorption. Set the tree in water in a sturdy non-tip stand. Guy wires may be used and needed for stability.

For information, write or call the Office of the State Fire Marshal, 3150 Executive Park Dr., Springfield 62703-4599; (217) 782-7381.

Receives Bi-State Support

With Hands across the border, civic leaders of Waukegan, Illinois and Kenosha, Wis., have joined to support Victory Memorial Hospital's "Designated Driver Program" during the 1985 holiday season, a service which will extend for Dec. 15-Jan. 1, 1986.

Victory Memorial Hospital is asking citizens to designate one member of the party to drive and not drink.

Local taverns and bars are participating by offering free soft drinks to persons wearing designated driver identification, which is available from participating taverns and bars and from the hospital.

"Prevention is the best course of action against the problem of drunk driving," states Adeline J. Geo-Karis, Illinois state senator, in her letter of endorsement. Robert H. Babcox, sheriff of Lake County and Fred R. Ekoraas, sheriff of Kenosha, have endorsed the Designated Driver Program, as have Joseph H. Trotta, chief of police in Kenosha, and Chief of Police in Waukegan, Ronald S. Hauri.

"I encourage every citizen to give the gift of friendship and life this holiday season by participating and supporting this program," said Colonel L.A. Nargelenas, superintendent of the Illinois State Police.

"If everyone would designate a driver before they leave home, lives will be saved and the roads will be safer. We hope everyone makes it home safely for this holiday and I am delighted to find such support for this program in Kenosha and Waukegan," said Terry Strickland, coordinator of the program for Victory Memorial Hospital.

Grass Lake School Starts Holiday Season

by ARDEEN HARRIS
(312) 395-2761

Only a few more days until Christmas Day! The Grass Lake School started out the holiday season with a very special program on Dec. 11. The audience had standing room only and enjoyed "A Time for Miracles." The program started with the Ms. Boesdorfer's fifth grade class presenting the play, "A Pound of Miracles."

The children have been practicing for weeks and their performance was excellent. Melissa Olenick was Peggy, Richard Castillo was Jerry, Jennifer Brausam during the day and cannot get anyone to watch your little ones. Sure wish this group was going when my kids were little!

Does anyone know the whereabouts of David Murphy. He was one of the winners at the Grass Lake Christmas Bazaar, and Linda Boerman has been unable to contact him. If you know David Murphy, or David, if you are reading this column, please contact Linda Boerman by Dec. 28 to claim your prize of a $10 gift certificate from the Hair Connection. Contact Linda at (312) 395-8059.

Congratulations to Ann

Happy Birthday wishes to Judy Hansen who will be celebrating another day on Dec. 29.

The Hockey season is over for the first and second grade girls. They played their last game on Dec. 6 and their standings are as follows: Rangers 6W - 1L, Kings 5W - 2L, Blues 4W - 2L - 1T, Red Wings 4W - 2L - 1T, Maple Leafs 2W - 4L - 1T, Canadians 2W - 4L - 1T, Black Hawks 1W - 5L - 1T and the Flyers 1W - 6L. was Kim, Corry Hansen was Sherri, Peter Schneider was Mr. Tiddle, John Mazzuca was Rob, Jason Paulhus was Santa, Carrie Hiller was Mrs. Miller, Duncan Bardecki was the father and Julene Wyatt was the mother. The entire fifth grade class participated at the end as carolers.

The program then continued on with the Beginning Band playing Jingle Bells, O Come All Ye Faithful, Angels We Have Heard on High and Jolly Old St. Nicholas. The advanced band then played "Overture for Christmas," "Rockin' Christmas" and "Christmas in Concert." Both bands were directed by Mrs. Jeanne Saltman. Mrs. Coia's first-grade class presented "Twas the Night Before Christmas," and then they were joined by Mrs. Rubash's Kindergarten class for "Mary Had a Baby" and the "Angel Band." "Silver Bells" and "Let It Snow" was presented by Ms. Olsen's fourth grade class and Ms. Boesdorfer's fifth grade class.

Mrs. Lynch's third grade class sang "Sleigh Ride." Mrs. Larson's second grade class and the third grade class presented "Pat-a-Pan" and "Frosty the Snowman."

The advanced music choir sang "Noel Noel," "Who Needs Christmas" and "Light Up The Tree." The program ended with the entire Kindergarten class on the stage dressed as angels, shepherds, Mary and Joseph and the three wise men, and the fourth grade sang "Tiny Child Rocking." The beautiful stage curtains and decorations and the new stage lighting added highlights to the Grass Lake Annual Christmas Program.

With Christmas shopping in the air, there is a group of ladies in the area who have started a co-op baby sitting program in the Grass Lake/Antioch area. At the present time there are seven ladies involved. They meet once a month to get acquainted with the children and the children with them. This baby sitting co-op has no money involved. It is basically an exchange of time. If there are any young moms out there who might be interested in joining this group, or would like some additional information, please contact Peggy Castillo at (312) 395-5923. Congratulations to Jenny Harris who is on the Friday Youth Bowling League at Antioch Bowl. She bowled a 212 and earned herself another patch!

Speaking of bowling, a lucky lady on the Thursday afternoon league at Antioch Bowl had the unique opportunity to win her first $2 in some silly strike and take a dollar game played by her team. She was so excited that the two one dollar bills are presently in a frame over her bar. No names given, but her initials are L.C. and her last name is real long (and usually spelled wrong by this columnist.)

Athlete Of The Week

Matt Weber has been selected as the "Athlete of the Week" for the week of Dec. 2-8 for his efforts in the two basketball victories over Niles North and Mundelein. His strong play in the Niles game was the key to that victory and he scored the winning basket in the final seconds of the game. His total for the two games were 26 points, 13 rebounds and two assists. Lake County Initiates Project Self-Sufficiency Task Force

Representatives of the educational, governmental, social services and business community of Lake County met Dec. 9 to discuss the recently approved Project Self-Sufficiency Task Force to oversee the operation of the federal demonstration project to explore innovation approaches to providing public and private resources to single parent, low-income families in Lake County.

At the meeting, Charles Bartels of Manpower, Inc.

and co-chairman, along with James LaBelle, Lake County Board Chairman, pointed out that "by using existing community programs and private sector input; the task force will develop an appropriate local action plan to guide each parent through a structured program which will result in employment and economic self-sufficiency."

Bartels further explained that no new services are to be provided, but instead, existing agency programs and personnel are being brought together in an innovative approach to meet the needs of the client population and their children in order to make them no longer dependent on public aid at the conclusion of the thirty-month demonstration program.

Co-Chairman James LaBelle said that Lake County was very fortunate to be chosen one of a very limited number of counties nationwide to participate in the project. He felt that the selection of Lake County was a tribute to the spirit of cooperation of the Task Force members and the staffs of the agencies and businesses involved that led to Lake County's selection in the program.

He further said he looked forward to working with the Task Force members and seeing the program not only to a successful conclusion, but also the refunding of the local program in the future and the application of local model on a national scale.

Project Self-Sufficiency is a locally designed program which seeks to identify and deliver a coordinated program of public and private sector resources necessary to break the poverty cycle for highly-motivated, very low income single parent families.

Its goal is to bring these families into the main-economic life through a comprehensive program of housing, child care, transportation, counseling, job training and job placement assistance.

Catholic Charities of Lake County was appointed as the lead administrative agency to facilitate administration of the project with the Lake County Housing Authority coordinating the housing component.

Treasured traditions are the heart of Christmas

The spirit of Christmas is embodied in one word: Hope. Christmas is a reaffirmation of the fact that kindness and goodness do exist, and in this lies the answer to why, year after year, we persist in fighting the crowds to find just the right gift for Aunt Sarah, or spend hours in the kitchen preparing our family's favorite foods.

Traditions and customs play an important role during the holiday season. Fond Christmas memories from childhood or pleasant associations that we've made over the years shape our concept of Christmas tradition.

Just as we embrace traditions that our grandmothers or mothers started, our country has embraced Christmas customs from all over the world. However, most of the traditions that we maintain today we've inherited from our German and English ancestors.

The creation of the first decorated Christmas tree is often attributed to Martin Luther. While walking one evening, he was struck with awe at the beauty of the starry sky peeking through the branches of trees. He immediately hurried home to place candles on the branches of a tree. Today, for safety reasons, we place lights on our tree in an effort to recreate this German custom of a candle-lit tree.

Mason: Get Politics Out Of Top Cop's Office

by GLORIA DAVIS

Don Mason, who has announced that he will oppose incumbent Lake County Sheriff Robert (Mickey) Babcox in the Republican primary preceding the spring election, is busy going house to house getting his petitions signed.

Mason ran as a Democrat in the 1982 election for sheriff in which he lost to Babcox by a mere 10,000 votes.

Mason, who received 46 percent of Lake County's votes in that election, said that he lost the election when Waukegan Mayor Bill Morris didn't back him. Mason took Waukegan but he needed 61 percent of that vote to be elected and only garnered slightly over 50 percent without Morris' help.

He has already started to set the tone for his second campaign against Babcox with a "stop the machine" push that calls for getting "the politician and the politics out of the sheriff's office."

He accuses Babcox of overspending, patronage, of possessing little more law enforcement knowledge than he had when he took the sheriff's office over four years ago, and of often keeping company and taking campaign contributions from suspected, indicted and later convicted felons and drug pushers.

Under overspending comes the hiring of Clint Grinnel and "Chick"

LaMagdeleine for approximately $60,000 per year, or a quarter of a million dollars per term, to "do the sheriff's job because he doesn't know a thing about law enforcement."

"Why pay three people to do one man's job?" asks Mason. He adds that if the people of Lake County deem that Grinnel and LaMagdeleine are necessary then they should work under a law enforcement professional, referring to his 10 years served as a deputy in the sheriff's department, from 1970-1980.

The accusation of patronage includes individual relationships and to "Babcox's group of 1,000 search and rescue service personnel that carry ID cards but have no experience at all." He likens that operation to former sheriff Pat Clavey's sale of gold stars.

He claims Babcox has been rubbing elbows with unsavory characters for years.

"I have never and will never have anything to do with people who have been indicted or tried for a crime as Babcox has," said Mason.

He claims that "Babcox's machine has the potential to be like Cook County's but it can still be stopped in the March primary."

He said that Lake County makes too many demands for a person to run as an independent candidate and adds that both hard core Republicans and Democrats (expecting a big crossover) will benefit if Babcox loses the primary.

He is presently busy raising campaign funds, claiming to have about $1,000 all donated by "small people."

He also claims that he has many municipal officials and Republicans backing him.

Mason is now making his campaign for sheriff, "my full time job." He operated a tavern in Lake Villa for a short time two years ago and claims that it gave him an insight to the problems of tavern owners in the much touted drunken driving situations.

He said that if Wisconsin won't raise its drinking age, then Illinois should lower the present 21-year-old law "to save lives."

He claims more cooperation between tavern operators and the police "could stop drunken driving before it starts, not at the border (disparaging money spent on border patrols.)"

He suggests getting tavern owners' cooperation in calling police before someone who has had too much to drink leaves their bar. Police could see that they got home without driving themselves.

So look forward to a campaign full of accusations from both sides. Mason claims that his will not include "mud-slinging" because all of his accusations can be backed by proof.

Laurel And Hardy Return

West Lake County's redoubtable Republican duo, Joe Tobolik and Ray Edwards, are at it again. They're running for public office. The two pals are in the race for the GOP nomination from County Board Dist. 4—Antioch, Grant, Lake Villa and Avon townships.

Tobolik has logged one term on the County Board, notable only for mischief making and a lackluster voting record. Generally, though, Tobolik and Edwards resemble more a couple of punchy boys than prospective public servants. They get knocked down at the polls by the voters only to stagger to their feet in the next election and keep swinging away.

Edwards and Tobolik were dubbed the Laurel and Hardy of west Lake County politics the last time they sailed their hats into the campaign ring because they are fun to watch. It will be interesting to see if they have concocted any new routines for the March, 1986, primary.

Inflation's Inequity

It is ironic that the same factor making it possible for Illinois public universities to reverse a decade-long trend on shrinking salaries for professors is making it more difficult for our local public school to keep up with demands for increasing teacher pay.

That is the inflation factor. With inflation stemming, a study by the Illinois Board of Higher Education found that faculty salary increases outpaced inflation for the second year in a row. Prospects for the future look bright for an average eight percent wage boost for professors while inflation is estimated at four percent.

At the grade school and high school level, however local school boards are pressed more than ever to budget for teacher salary increases because the inflation factor that used to regularly raise real estate values on which tax levies are based isn't a positive factor anymore. Valuations have stabilized so more money can be obtained only by hiking levies and taxpayers are reluctant to vote themselves more taxes.

The rub in paying the cost of public education is that higher education is funded at the state level while primary and secondary education is funded locally, principally from estate taxes. The Illinois General Assembly has the ultimate responsibility for seeing that public education is funded yet as a practical matter there is a double standard that is a constant irritant to local school officials.

With no intent to evade primary and secondary school salary problems, it is encouraging to see that Illinois has made significant strides in providing competitive salaries at the college and university level. Stanley Ikenberry, University of Illinois president, points out that adequate salaries are not only needed to keep quality faculties, but also to attract the brightest students to teaching. Unless salaries are at an acceptable level, Ikenberry declared, "we will get what we ultimately deserve: an educational system populated by mediocrity."

Professors' pay still trails well behind that of other professionals such as accountants, engineers, lawyers, chemists and computer programmers, an average of $31,800 to $54,300. To its credit, the board study noted that professors are paid for 9½ months work compared with 12 months for other professions. This fact often is overlooked in comparing what teachers in this community are paid when compared to other professions.

The inflation factor can be equalized for teachers at all levels only if the General Assembly assumes a greater portion of education funding for local schools. That might happen if there is a "trickle down" effect from the college level.

'Familiar Face' In Mayor's Chair Is Ken Schultz

by BILL SCHROEDER

Holiday time will be unusually hectic this year for former Lakeland residents getting used to their new role as the first family of Albuquerque, N.M.

Ken Schultz, who grew up in Antioch and built a wide circle of friends through the automobile business before taking his family to the southwest 11 years ago, is the new mayor of New Mexico's largest city with 385,000 population.

"We're getting settled into the new job. Right now I'm making all the appointments for the new administration," Schultz remarked in a telephone interview. He took office Dec. 1.

And Mayor Schultz said his wife, the former Diane Capodice of Round Lake, will have an important role to play in the new look in city hall just like she worked side-by-side with him during a hard campaign.

"Diane is going to be involved in a lot of the ceremonial duties of the office," declared Schultz, 48, who got started in the automobile business in west Lake County fresh out of the Marine Corps 25 years ago.

They are the parents of two sons, Ken Jr., a student at the University of Arizona, and Stephan, a high school sophomore.

Schultz said he entered Albuquerque politics through the volunteer route. He established his reputation as a person who can get things done when he served as chairman of the reapportionment committee in 1979. Soon afterwards he was elected a city councilor, dovetailing politics with operation of a major auto dealership.

A year ago Ken sold his business to devote himself 100 percent to public affairs. "Make that 110 percent," Ken said with a laugh, relating how he battled another popular candidate all the way, eeking out a 41,495 to 39,450 victory. He was rated the underdog going into the election.

Schultz described how a volunteer force of 1,000 keynoted his win. "The election is non-partisan so you start from scratch to build a team. We were making 2,000 telephone calls per night at one time."

Under New Mexico law, campaign spending is limited to the equivalent of the first year's salary. "At $52,600 you can see how volunteers are important in our elections," Mayor Schultz added.

His automobile training in business management and salesmanship should provide a good background for running a city administration with 4,000 employees and 27 departments.

As a young man in west Lake County, Schultz sold cars in Grayslake and Fox Lake before landing a niche in Antioch where he eventually became general manager of Lyons-Ryan Ford. He later had dealerships in Kenosha and Crystal Lake before moving to Albuquerque.

As mayor of one of the most rapidly growing cities in the southwest, Schultz said his priorities will be devoted to maintaining the city's quality of life and coping with a serious crime rate that accompanies rapid growth.

Ever the salesman, Mayor Schultz extended an open invitation to former Lakeland friends:

"Visit our city and see a familiar face in the mayor's office."

He has induced his parents, Howard and Marie Strang to retire in Albuquerque. The Schultz' enjoy entertaining Illinois friends who "stop in."

'Code 33' More Than A Routine Emergency

When Victory Memorial Hospital's Debra Holland hears "Code 33" over the public address system, as clinical coordinator, she is acutely aware that her Emergency Room staff will be dealing with much more than just a routine medical emergency.

A "Code 33" is the signal that alerts Victory Memorial's staff to an incoming patient, possibly contaminated with radioactive dirt. Radioactive contamination could take place at a nuclear power plant, from a research institution, or even a transportation accident involving radioactive materials.

"A Code 33 alerts us that we must open our Radioactive Emergency Unit (REA) to control the contamination," Ms. Holland explains.

"The REA facility allows us to treat life-threatening injuries, while keeping the contamination isolated. Our staff is trained, and the unit itself is always on alert for just such an emergency," she added.

As the only designated decontamination unit for Lake County, Victory Memorial Hospital works closely with Commonwealth Edison in making certain contamination emergencies are handled perfectly.

Each year, Victory Memorial and Commonwealth Edison participate in an all-out drill, that activates total "Code 33" procedures at the Hospital, Zion Fire Department, and the Zion Nuclear Power Plant.

This year's drill was coordinated by Radiation

Management Corporation, and held at Victory Memorial on Sept. 20. (Radiation Management Corporation is a Philadelphia based company).

Normally, a nuclear plant worker is decontaminated in the routine course of the job. A problem occurs when a worker is injured (or ill) in a contaminated area, and must be transported to Victory Memorial Hospital immediately, while still contaminated.

The Sept. 20 drill presented such a scenario, as two workers were "injured" on the job at the Zion Nuclear Plant. The dramatization was conducted with attention to the smallest detail of injuries applied with realistic stage make-up, and geiger counters clicking with contamination readings.

The Zion Fire Dept. paramedics are called to the plant, "treated" the injuries, and transported the patients to Victory Memorial via ambulance. During this time, Victory Memorial nurses and physicians have prepared the REA unit.

"The REA unit is built to control radioactive contamination," states Rock Aker, lead health physicist with Commonwealth Edison. "The REA has special protective layers, the medical staff wears double layers of protective garments, and there is a special 'buffer zone' outside of the REA unit to make certain that no personnel or materials are still contaminated upon leaving," Mr. Aker explains.

This REA is isolated, yet has close access to Victory's emergency rooms and equipment.

During the drill, the REA is alive with swift working medical experts. The Victory Emergency Room physician and nurses treat the injuries, a radiation expert from Commonwealth Edison monitors contamination levels, and instruct staff on the proper disposal of waste material into special containers.

Following attention to the "injuries, the patients are literally washed with soap and water, to remove the radioactive dirt.

Paul Salator, of Radiation Management Corporation, is one of the instructors at the drill. "There are very few hospitals throughout America, that actually receive this type of training," he explains.

"Hospitals like Victory Memorial are much better prepared with this extensive, unique, and specialized training. It benefits both the hospital staff, and the community," Salator added.

Victory Memorial Hospital is a not-for-profit acute care hospital which has been serving Lake County for more than 90 years.

International Meal Makes For Interesting Event

George is a chef in Montreal. We got together several times during his vacation and talked food. Better make that communicated.

George speaks no English. I speak no French. My wife cooked a Mexican dinner. Several of the guests spoke only Spanish. You can't get much more international.

With the help of a translator and sign language, I learned that George is the chef at a French restaurant that seats 180 and caters to businessmen at lunchtime.

George does the shopping in the morning, just like all good French chefs do, and then prepares the menu. There are six main dishes featured daily, plus another halfmeat. In Montreal, George buys avocados shipped from Israel.

The steak flambe was neatly trimmed sirloin, broiled in the oven. He poured on the cognac, lit up and served the steaks with a simple, peppered cream sauce, accompanied by those cute, small vegetables you mostly are served at chic hotel restaurants.

I gave my compliments to the chef via the toast. Naturally, it was red wine.

My version of steak flambe is slightly different.

Steak Flambe For Two

- 2 thick beef steaks, excess fat trimmed
- 1/4 cup butter
- 1/4 teaspoon each salt and black pepper
- 1/2 cup beef bouillon
- 2 teaspoons prepared mustard
- 1 1/2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
- 1/4 teaspoon each bottled steak sauce and ground ginger
- 1/4 cup brandy, slightly warmed in saucepan

In large skillet, fry steaks in 2 tablespoons heated butter until desired doneness, remove from pan, sprinkle with salt and pepper and keep warm. Add to skillet remaining butter, bouillon, mustard, steak sauce and ginger, mix well and slowly bring to boil, stirring. Return steaks to skillet, ignite brandy, pour over meat and serve at once.

Realistic Goals Help Avoid Holiday Bulges

The holiday season not only brings decorations, gifts and festivities—it also brings the temptation to overindulge on snacks, rich treats and heavy meals served at parties and family gatherings.

For those who despair or reaching New Year's without an extra five or ten pounds, Gail Underbakke, clinical dietitian at the University of Wisconsin Hospital and Clinics, has several suggestions. The key to holiday season weight watching, she says, is planning and setting realistic goals.

"Set a goal of keeping your weight gain to two or three pounds," says Underbakke.

"You may become frustrated if you try to lose weight during the holidays. However, if you decide to put off all weight watching until after New Year's, you may have more pounds to lose," she said.

In addition to setting realistic goals, Underbakke has several suggestions for those battling the scales. Avoid weighing yourself after a heavy meal or evening of snacking, she says—it's too easy to become discouraged.

"If you step on the scale the morning after a heavy meal and find it registering an extra three or four pounds, you're apt to feel frustrated and consequently overeat again," she said.

However, the extra pounds on the scale usually reflect a temporary increase in water retention, which occurs after eating salty and fatty foods.

"It is almost impossible to gain more than one pound of body fat in a day," Underbakke explains.

To gain one pound of fat, a person would have to eat 3,500 extra calories—approximately equal to 10 cups of cranberry sauce, 12 slices of pumpkin pie, or 35 dinner rolls.

"Watching your weight during the holidays doesn't mean depriving yourself of all holiday treats. Just try to carefully choose the foods you want to eat," she said.

"For instance, you may want to enjoy a special holiday cake, but skip a dinner and butter, which you can eat all year," adds Underbakke.

Underbakke has several calorie-cutting tips for holiday party-goers. First, eat a good meal before attending a social gathering. "It's not a good idea to miss meals before a party," she says, "if you do, your willpower will be low by evening, and you'll probably more than make up for the calories skipped earlier."

Eating smaller portions of treats is another good strategy. "The first and last bites are the most satisfying," says Underbakke. "You can eat smaller portions, or split them with someone else, and still satisfy your craving."

Underbakke also suggests standing away from the buffet table, passing on platters of snacks set next to you, and keeping a bit of food on your plate to discourage refills. Dry wine has about half the calories of most mixed drinks, while fruit juices as few as one-tenth the calories of eggnog.

Party hosts can help guests avoid extra calories, while still offering a festive array of snacks. Underbakke recommends serving snacks such as vegetables and dill dip, slices of fresh fruit topped with yogurt, and melba toast or breadsticks instead of nuts, cakes and salted crackers.

For beverages, she suggests hot apple cider or spiced teas instead of eggnog or punch. Underbakke adds that hosts should try not to "push foods" or make guests feel guilty for not eating.

She also recommends that persons take time out to exercise during the holidays, and plan some holiday activities which do not center around food.

Travel

There's Room For Adding Spice To Noel Nuances

As holidays approach and the shopping picks up, there's room for adding some spice to Noel nuances in nearby hotels that cater to families this time of year.

Other travel considerations are that post Christmas plans may include trips made possible by holiday gifts and bonuses. Getting away for a few days of comfort and hospitality may be on the schedule.

Wondering where to go justifies a little advance research. Guaranteed comfort and enjoyment at a selected destination requires early plans.

The toll free, 800 number is a boon to travelers wanting to visit unfamiliar locations. A telephone call can answer many questions without making a commitment.

Consider several other sources of information that should not be overlooked. One is newspaper travel pages such as this. Specific requests for area information will be channeled to proper sources for reply.

Travel agents and tour planners should also be contacted. Being basically nearby, they are delighted to do the type of research needed for decision making, including destinations and transportation.

Many have been in the business for years and enjoy excellent reputations. For travelers unfamiliar with travel agent services, several things may be a guide. Being conversationally familiar with the interest area is one consideration.

Select one willing to discuss individual needs, time, dollars and location easily, without pressure. The travel agent represents the traveler, the destination and the transportation, be it air, ship, train, motorcoach or car rental. They will shop and even bargain price-wise for a serious customer.

Agent compensations come from the supplier, not from the travelers. Utilizing their know-how can very likely save money, so the travel budget will allow a few extras at destination. Advance planning and reservations are insurance for a pleasant trip.

Senator Gets Good Rating

Sen. David Barkhausen (R-Lake Bluff) has received a "very good" rating from the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois (TFI) for his 1985 voting record on bills dealing with tax and pension issues.

"I recognize the Taxpayers' Federation as the watchdog of state spending and I consider it an honor to receive their 'very good' ranking," Sen. Barkhausen said. "I always try to be conscious of how legislation will affect the Illinois taxpayer."

The Federation rates legislators annually on "tax issues we consider to be the toughest votes each year." TFI President Douglas L. Whitley said. "They are the votes that demonstrate what we think is a good commitment to the basic principles of sound tax policy."

Votes cast on approximately 20 selected bills are scored by the Federation, which uses those scores to rank legislators in one of five classifications ranging from "superior" to "below average."

Classy Chassis Has New Computer Plugs Close Offices

Classy Chassis Auto Care Center, Ltd. has become one of the first auto care centers in the Lakeland area to acquire the new Smart Engine Analyzer computerized auto test system.

The system is manufactured by Allen Test Products, the acknowledged industry leader in computerized automotive test products. Classy Chassis is located at 545 W. Railroad Ave. (Rte. 134) in Round Lake.

Allen's Territory Manager Jim Pappas explains why Classy Chassis was chosen to have the system: "Allen chose Classy Chassis for the Smart Engine Analyzer because it is a model business in the auto care industry. The superbly qualified technicians, fair pricing and sound management exemplify everything an auto care center should be. We're proud to have them using Allen equipment."

To use the Smart Engine Analyzer, a technician first plugs the system into several places on the engine. The computer then analyzes all the major systems one-by-one, checking starting, charging, fuel distribution, compression, time and ignition.

It collects data based on a vehicle's actual operating characteristics, and determines whether that vehicle is working at its own peak performance level.

At any time, the technician can interrupt the test for more specific, detailed information. With late model cars, a live data stream hookup extracts and processes information from the car's own on-board computers.

The Smart Engine Analyzer's computer software is constantly updated to include the latest cars on the market. The software has test programs for virtually every import or domestic automobile ever made, from the Model T to the Nissan 300ZX to the 1986 Chevrolet Cavalier.

A video screen displays test results and any graphs the technician requests. The auto's owner gets an easy-to-understand printout of the results. Depending on the type of automobile, the computer "test" takes between 15 and 35 minutes.

"The Smart Engine Analyzer is thorough, fast and accurate," says Classy Chassis owner Ken Gustafson. "It allows our technicians to perform the best diagnosis available today," he added.

Gustafson goes on to say that the system also locates problems that, until now, have been impossible to find. He tells of a recent incident where, although the car had been in and out of the dealer's shop several times, the dealer's mechanics had still not been able to locate the source of a problem.

They sent the car to Classy Chassis, and Gustafson hooked the car up. The Smart Engine Analyzer had pinpointed the problem within 10 minutes.

Gustafson's wife, Mary, has found that the computerized Smart Engine Analyzer particularly appeals to those who are not familiar with auto repair:

"The analyzer gives factual information on the condition of the engine," she says, "and the printout is a big help in knowing what needs work now, and what may be needed in the future."

The Smart Engine Analyzer has also become popular with used car shoppers who are bringing their potential purchases in before they buy. Pappas maintains that "when used by expert technicians who are also performing a visual inspection, the Smart Engine Analyzer takes some of the guesswork out of buying a used car."

Once the prospective buyer has a realistic evaluation of the car's actual condition, he or she can use the printout to negotiate a better deal — or to decide to keep on shopping."

Technician skill is important to the interpretation of data provided by the Smart Engine Analyzer. Classy Chassis' technicians are among the most highly qualified automotive technicians anywhere.

Each has been selected for his top-notch skills, knowledge and dedication to quality automotive care. This, combined with ASE certification (by the National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence) and full, up-to-date training, has earned Classy Chassis technicians their reputation for quality and precise auto care. Each is fully trained to work on every type of domestic and imported car. In addition, each has undergone intensive training on the Smart Engine Analyzer.

Gustafson makes every effort to keep the cost of auto repair down, and in most cases, prices are lower than those found at area dealerships. Several manufacturers' extended warranties are honored. Visa and MasterCard are accepted.

To make an appointment for a Smart Engine Analyzer computerized auto test, or any other automotive servicing, phone Classy Chassis at (312) 740-9000.

Always Makes Sense To Prepare For Future

The Social Security survivors, retirement and disability insurance programs comprise a system of social insurance. Under this system, millions of workers, their employers and self-employed pay taxes into funds from which benefits are paid when earnings have stopped or been reduced because of retirement or disability. In the event of death, payments are made to survivors.

Why should a young, healthy worker be concerned about possibility of disability or death? Consider the following facts compiled by the National Safety Council:

- Accidents are the leading killer of persons under age 38 and are the fourth leading cause of death among all age groups.

- An accident takes place every 4 seconds, and an accidental death occurs every 6 minutes.

- In 1982, almost 93,000 Americans died as the result of an accident.

- Every 11 minutes, a person dies in a motor vehicle accident.

- On average, 11 accidental deaths occur every hour of the year.

If a person could be guaranteed regular, uninterrupted employment at an average-to-high wage level, and if that person could be guaranteed that all the money he or she invested would pay substantial dividends, it is conceivable that after a lifetime of work, that person might be able to retire with the same degree of assurance that characterizes the millions of people who now receive Social Security retirement benefits.

But who can guarantee against the possibility of serious illness or disabling injury? The National Safety Council's statistics deal only with accidents. During the time it has taken to read this, as many as 25 or more accidents occurred throughout the United States. How many more people are disabled by illness or die from disease?

It is this inability to predict the future that makes Social Security as essential a part of American life today as it was 50 years ago.

If you would like more information about Social Security protection, required our free pamphlet, "Your Social Security," by calling (312) 244-5050. The Waukegan Social Security office is located at One North Genesee Street.

Sequoits Slip To Fourth

by GLORIA DAVIS

The Antioch Sequoits learned how easy it is to go from a first place tie to a fourth place one in just one week by losing their two cage contests to Lake Forest, 66-59 and to North Chicago, 59-57.

With a 2-2 North Suburban Conference record as a result, the Sequoits are set to face the Libertyville Wildcats on Friday, Dec. 20 with climbing back up the ladder in mind.

Although the Sequoits trounced the Wildcats early in the season at the Barrington Thanksgiving Tournament, they will most probably be faced with a team bent on revenge.

Another element that might add to Antioch's troubles is the return of the Wildcat's star center Brian Wilcox who has recovered from knee surgery.

In the Lake Forest game, Antioch was ahead by one hoop, 25-23, at half time but the Scouts came on full force in the third and the top of the fourth, outscoring the Sequoits 13-0, putting Antioch down by 12.

"We tried a comeback," said Sequoit Coach Don Zeman, but the Scouts were too good at the free-throw line, shooting 39 and making 26 of those shots."

Don Gunther had the hot hands for Antioch with 17 points and 12 rebounds followed by Dave Grindley, with 11 and nine rebounds.

It could have been a different story when the Sequoits played North Chicago, since they had a chance to tie the score in the last nine seconds of the game but failed when a free throw was missed, going down for the count in a close one, 59-57.

Gunther and Mike McGrain led the redmen this time, both sinking hoops adding up to 18 points, Rick Reitmayer and Gunther grabbed seven rebounds each.

Again Antioch led in the beginning of the game and was still ahead by 10 in the third, but too many mistakes let that lead slip.

"We lacked patience and we were not able to force the ball to the middle and then North Chicago got hot," said Zeman.

Johnsburg To Visit Wauconda

The Johnsburg Skyhawks will travel to Wauconda Friday night (Dec. 20) to try and get an edge on its 1-1 conference record.

For a first conference win of the season, the Skyhawks defeated Marian Central 61-56 after being eight points short at the end of a foul infested first half. The Skyhawks returned to the court third quarter and cut its 19 fouls down to six while Marian Central had 16 fouls the entire game.

For the Skyhawks, Mike Toussaint scored 17 points and Bill Dust and Rick Easterling each scored 10 points.

TIME OUT!

A Look At Sports Around Lake County

By Joel Willberger

The crowded stores, long lines, money grabbing check-out people, and the 315 Santas located all over the county since Thanksgiving, make you realize just how long the Christmas season is.

I'm looking at the "wish" list on the refrigerator and if everything on there is filled, I'll be bankrupted before the year is over. Seeing this list reminded me to assemble one for "Time Out."

To Ron Romani, ardent Green Bay Packer fan and president and guiding light of the Ron Romani Tuesday Night Golf League—video tapes of the 1985 Chicago Bear football season.

To Pete Peterson, leading club thrower in the Romani League and longtime Chicago Cub fan—an audience with Dallas Green (vice president and general manager of the Cubs).

To Mike Ditka, head coach of the Chicago Bears—another Super Bowl ring.

To Chet Koppeck, WMAQ sportscaster and host of the weekly Mike Ditka Show—a list of intelligent questions to ask the coach.

To all my Green Bay Packer friends—a quarterback that is mobile, with a desire to play every game. (I wonder if Forrest Gregg knows the whereabouts of Bobby Douglass.)

To Dick Kessler (Antioch) and Fred Swanson (Libertyville)—the desire and ability to continue their involvement in officiating athletic events throughout the county.

To all the parents of ex-high school athletes, now attending college—enough money left over to cover the tuitions due next year.

To the coaches and athletes of my favorite teams—may all the calls go your way throughout the season.

To the Round Lake Panther Pushers—enough money to provide lights for the Panther football field.

And finally for my daughters (who by the way, are not getting everything on their "wish" list)—may you marry someone rich; for my son (who isn't getting everything either)—may you let us spend less money on you next year; and for my wife (who didn't put anything on her list)—a trip to California.

HAVE A HAPPY HOLIDAY!

Mustangs Win Some Lose A Few

A tough defense is what the Mustangs hope will ward off their opponents when the varsity basketball team meets Niles North on Dec. 20.

Although the Vikings have been up and down this season, the defending conference champs will be a difficult challenger to beat. In their fifth conference game of the season, the Mustang's headed towards victory with a 15 point lead during most of the game against Stevenson, and finally beating the Patriots with a score of 58-50.

off Warren's Brian Jarrell from scoring 20 points. Mustang's Jim Tipperreiter earned a total of 19 points, followed by Retzinger's 17 points.

Await Next Match Between Tony, Rod

Carmel fans still are talking about Rod Whittier's match-up with Tony Freeman of St. Joseph who generally is regarded one of the best high school guards in Illinois, if not the nation.

And the Corsair backers insist that Wildwood's Whittier, who has been a leader since grade school days at St. Gilbert School, should be ranked along side Freeman.

They are looking forward to the second encounter between Whittier and Freeman early in 1986.

Their first meeting this season Dec. 6 ended with Freeman besting Whittier 32 to 25 in point production because of freethrown opportunities, but elsewhere it was even-steven between the two ace guards.

The seven point difference between Tony and Rod in the first game of the East Suburban Catholic Conference basketball season provided St. Joseph's edge over Carmel in a 64-57 game between the two teams that shared the East Suburban Catholic Conference last season.

At 5-9 Whittier is two inches taller than Freeman. Both are exceptionally quick and are at ease driving for layups or blazing away from long range. The two ESCC foes are top defensive players and display the necessary qualities for leadership.

Whittier is more ruggedly built so give him an edge for more physical action.

Comparisons are inevitable between the two highly talented senior cagers. The eyes of the Illinois basketball world will be on their next match.

Top scorers for Mundelein were all-conference contender Jay Retzinger with a total of 29 points.

Center Joe Weiner also had a number of top plays, scoring additional points for the Mustangs on eight rebounds.

The team slipped back down to a losing score of 55-51 against Warren on Dec. 14.

Mundelein coach Denny Kessel said that although the team played a hard defense, the Mustang's couldn't hold

Panthers May Still Be Shaking

The Round Lake Panthers will probably still be shaking from the four extra periods it took them to defeat the Grant Bulldogs last weekend when they travel to Lake Zurich for a Northwest Suburban Conference contest on Friday, Dec. 20, starting at 7:30 p.m.

The Panthers were scheduled to play the Marian Central Hurricanes Dec. 17, but results were not available at press time. They posted a 1-1 conference record going into the match with the Hurricanes.

Round Lake did a fine job of bouncing back against the Bulldogs Dec. 13 after losing their conference-opener to Marengo earlier this month.

The Grant game was very close, with the Panthers leading at the half 22-21. They extended that lead to 36-33 after three periods of play, but Grant came back in the last quarter to tie it at 43-43.

Grant's Ron Richford scored with five seconds remaining in regulation to tie it up. Richford scored 15 points to lead the Bulldogs.

Each team scored four points in the first overtime, and three points in the second and third overtimes.

The Panthers pulled away in the fourth overtime to win the game by a 63-57 count.

The Panthers' big three: Frank Ptak, Doug Sparks and Greg Kreitner scored 21, 17 and 17 points respectively.

Bulldogs To Take On Undefeated Marengo

The Grant Bulldogs will face another tough competition Friday night when they travel to play undefeated Marengo.

After a four three-minute overtimes, the Bulldogs lost to another tough contender, Round Lake, 67-63 last weekend.

Head coach Tom Maple said he is optimistic for an exciting game against Marengo which will have the home court advantage.

"We knew Round Lake was a tough team," Maple explained. "I am convinced now that we can play with anybody and we're going to be a factor in the conference."

Sports

Split Shows Two Sides Of 'New Look' Carmel

Gaining confidence with every game, Carmel's Corsairs are eager to tackle their second consecutive two-game weekend with a trip to Holy Cross Friday night, Dec. 20, and a non-conference game with Deerfield at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

A split last weekend, including a free-wheeling 73-59 conquest of Notre Dame at home was convincing evidence that the "new look" Corsairs can go a long way this season in attempting to duplicate their Sweet Sixteen season last year.

As Coach Frank Belmont has put it more than once, "We're getting there."

And "getting there" against the taller Dons included an aggressive full court press defense and blending in an occasional fast break on offense, two features vastly different from outstanding Carmel teams of past years, which employed a controlled offense, relying on inside strength and a disciplined patterned defense.

Against Notre Dame, Carmel broke fast with three baskets by Waukegan senior George France and a pair of layups by backup junior center Dan Halvorson of Waukegan leading the way to a 21-9 first quarter advantage.

For the second night in a row, the Corsairs went into a second quarter slump, not scoring until 4:50 remaining when Rod Whittier sunk a steal. At one stretch the Dons outscored Carmel 10-2. Lake Zurich's Scott Peterson dropped a free throw to break a 24-24 tie. It was 34-30 at the half in favor of Carmel.

Carmel befuddled Notre Dame with its press again in the third quarter and built up a 51-38 third quarter lead.

Belmont got his reserves some playing time in the fourth quarter as Whittier added to his team leading 16 points. Dan O'Grady of Notre Dame was high scorer for the game with 22 points.

Two ice cold middle quarters against St. Viator in which the Corsairs scored only 11 points spelled doom in an East Suburban Catholic Conference contest.

Carmel opened with at 14-12 first quarter advantage and closed with 21 points in the fourth quarter against St. Viator which always is tough at home with its rough and tumble style. Rick Ryan, St. Viator's excitable mentor, obviously was delighted to catch Carmel on an erratic night.

The two games showed two sides of Belmont's 1985-86 Carmel edition, one night when they pretty much beat themselves and the other night how speed and quickness can spell victory.

Not unnoticed in Mundelein, without a doubt, was the new that St. Joseph got by St. Viator Saturday night in a 57-55 pinch.

With patience and stressing the importance of having the Corsairs believe in themselves, it appears that Belmont has Carmel not only "getting there," but ready to go someplace.

Coach Jay Hoffman's sophs remained undefeated after seven games defeating St. Viator 46-42 and Notre Dame 45-39.

Rams Hope To Bounce Back After Poor Week

by DAN G. O'SHEA

Defense was the low point in Grayslake basketball this past week as the Rams allowed 128 points against two opponents.

Grayslake Head Coach Greg Groth commented that he would rather win with defense than high scoring and described the defense as "weak" in both games last week as the Rams defeated Cary-Grove 70-60 in a non-conference game on Dec. 10 and then lost in a conference contest at Lake Zurich on Dec. 13 by a 68-41 score.

On Friday, Dec. 20, the Rams take a 1-1 Northwest Suburban Conference record into battle with Marian Central at home. The Rams have a 5-3 record overall.

Grayslake came out on top in the high-scoring duel with Cary-Grove. Groth pointed out the Rams used balanced scoring to defeat the Trojans.

Guard Tom Castino led the charge with 12 points and guard Butch LeNoir followed with 10 points. Another guard, Kelly Bye, and forward John Lui each contributed nine.

Rounding out the scoring were Jeff West, Ken Melton and Bill Sangbusch with eight points each and Daryl Mackenthun had six points.

Groth said that Sangbusch, a (6-3) senior, has come around offensively and defensively since the beginning of the season.

"Sangbusch really played as good as he could, just outstanding," Groth noted. "Sangbusch, Melton, West and LeNoir have all gained confidence but I would still like to see more scoring out of the big men."

The Rams traveled to Lake Zurich in "sub-zero" weather where they suffered a blowout. According to Groth, the Rams were plagued by terrible shooting and weak defense. Melton led the Rams in scoring with 14 points, his season high, while Castino had 13 and West had eight points.

After eight games, Castino leads the team in scoring with 100 points, averaging 14.3 per game. (He missed one game.) The (5-8) senior guard is also shooting 70 percent from the free throw line for the team lead among regulars.

Bye has 54 total points and a 6.8 game average. Lui scores an average of 6.3 per game for a total of 51 points, while LeNoir follows with 50 for a 6.2 average and West rounds out the top five with 41 points, averaging 5.1 points a game.

Bulldogs Meet 6th Loss Against Indians, 58-45

by JENNI PARMALEE

In basketball, experience is still the best teacher.

In his 29th year of coaching, Marengo Coach Bill Barry led his Indians to yet another victory, 58-45, over hosting Wauconda, Thursday night, Dec. 12.

The Bulldogs continue to improve in every area except the win column. Despite a strong performance, Wauconda remains winless at 0-6 overall.

"We're not going to get frustrated," Wauconda Coach Chuck Neary said. "We're not going to go 0-24."

The Bulldogs were unable to contain the well-balanced offense of Marengo. Senior guard Joe Hanson was the game's leading scorer with 15 points. Indians Tim Hellemann and Carlos Velasquez followed, scoring 14 points each.

"Those three guys were outstanding shooters," Neary said. "They're a very disciplined team."

Seniors Paul Nibbio and Kyle Eckmann were the leaders on the counter attack for Wauconda. Nibbio sunk seven shots, the majority of which were 15-feet or more.

Eckmann continued to show improvement as a center with 12 points and six offensive rebounds. "Eckmann had a very good game," Neary said. "That's the second time this year that he's been in double figures."

Bulldog Phil Elwell returned to action after a two week absence. During the Round Lake Thanksgiving Tournament, Elwell suffered a dislocated finger that remained taped in Friday's game.

"Elwell did an excellent job handling the ball," Neary said. "His shot wasn't quite there, but that will take some time."

It didn't take long for the Bulldogs to show Marengo their improved skills. Wauconda had a 14-13 lead at the end of the first quarter after Eckmann sunk both free throws at the :50 mark.

The second period was an entirely different story. The Bulldog offense could only account for a single basket. The second quarter went quickly for the Indians also, but they were still able to add nine points to their total before the half when they led 22-16.

"The second quarter determined the outcome of the game," Neary said. "We just got very impatient."

The Bulldogs equaled Marengo's 16 points in the third quarter to draw within six. The Indians led 38-32.

Matters only worsened in the fourth quarter. Down by seven with 2:03 remaining, the Bulldogs gambled and began fouling in order to get the ball back.

Marengo was going to stall with two minutes to go," Neary said. "Either we'd have to play great defense or take some fouls and hope they would miss the free throws."

The Indians went 8-10 at the free throw line in the remaining two minutes to cap off their 58-45 victory.

The Bulldogs will try again for a victory, hosting St. Edward's-Elgin in a non-conference battle on Tuesday, Dec. 17 an NWSC rival Johnsburg on Friday, Dec. 20.

Don't Forget Rover And Tabby At Christmas Time!

by CHARLENE WHITNEY

The stores are filled with bright lights, Christmas trees, and crowds of people doing their shopping. This is often the time when the family pet is forgotten. It's easy to get busy and forget to take proper care of the pet by feeding, watering, etc. If you have a list to keep track of chores around the holidays, add your pet to that list.

Are his shots up to date? His bed should be kept clean and warm. If he live outside, is his house warm enough during the winter? Water can freeze in a couple of hours. Does he have fresh water that he can get to? His dish should not be plastic as he will chew it. His bed should not be made of wood or cardboard as he can also chew that.

Keep dogs and cats away from the following plants as they are poisonous to your pet: poinsettia, chrysanthemums, rubber plants, rosary peas, evergreens and mistletoe. When the holidays arrive, these plants are often found in the home.

Make sure that your pet doesn't get into the tinsel on the tree or the glass balls or decorations that might be held together by pins. Also, you should know that wrapping paper and ribbons may contain dye that is poisonous. Again, cats as well as dogs will chew on these things.

Many people will be feeding their pets turkey bones over the holidays and no matter what I say this probably won't change. Don't feed your pet bones of any kind. Turkey bones will bring on diarrhea if given very much. Bones can get caught in the throat. Often a pet is given much of the wrong food around the holidays and will become ill.

You will want to make sure that your Christmas tree is standing sturdy, as sometimes a cat will decide to climb it, or a dog will come running into it with rough play.

If you plan to get a gift for will see a pet sock, but that is not always the wise way to go. More often there are toys that have things your pet can swallow such as in the squeak parts. A hard ball or puppy round chews are good for pups and dogs and kitty might like a catnip mouse. A fancy collar or a sweater for the cold days are other makes it Christmas all year round for him.

If you are thinking about buying a Christmas pet for someone else, that may not be the best idea. If it is a child, make sure that it is the type of pet that he wants and can handle. Plan to help the child and teach him how to care for the pet and about his pet. If it is for grandma, there is a good chance that she won't want to train a pup or kitten or have the money to keep up with it's needs. She might want to pick out her own pet.

A pet takes a lot of money, time and energy. A pet is a big responsibility for the person on the receiving end.

They will have this pet for a good many years. If the pet doesn't work out, you may find yourself with a new pet!

The wise thing to do is to ask the person ahead of time if they would like it and would want to come along to pick it out. Be sure and get the pet a few weeks before the holidays as in many ways it will be easier for you and the pet to adjust. Also, it will make it more convenient, in case a vet is needed.

While making sugar cookies, it might be fun for you and the kids to cut out some shapes like your pets. Have fun and Merry Christmas!

your pet, you will need to put a lot of thought into it. There are many items to pick from, but they are not all safe or practical. Many times you choices.

However, the pet that has everything is the one with a warm place, daily food and lots of love and care. That

Movie Nostalgia

By Lynn Hoogenboom

How would people react if Santa Claus — the real Santa Claus — appeared in their midst?

"Miracle on 34th Street" starts off innocently enough. Maureen O'Hara hires Edmund Gwenn as the new Macy's Santa. But there's something a little — well — different about this Santa. He seems convinced that he really is Santa, and he has a penchant for directing customers to other stores when Macy's doesn't have exactly what they want.

Is he crazy? That's what the company psychiatrist (Porter Hall) claims.

Is he a commercial genius? That's what R.H. Macy (Harry Antrim) thinks after his office is bombarded with thanks from customers expressing gratitude for Macy's "new policy."

Is he a kind old man under a harmless delusion? That's what Maureen O'Hara tends to believe. Or could he, as her daughter (played by a very young Natalie Wood) begins to wonder, actually be the real thing?

"Miracle on 34th Street" was made in 1947, but it still stands out as the freshest, most original Christmas movie ever made. This year, for the first time, it's being seen in color (created with a new computer process) in many areas.

Question: What month of the year did "Miracle on 34th Street" open?

Answer: June. (The Hollywood rule that Christmas movies must open at Christmas time had not yet been firmly established.)

ROCKY IV (PG-United Artists) Starring Sylvester Stallone, Talia Shire, Burt Young. ★ ★ 1/2 ★

In "Rocky IV," Sylvester Stallone works with the philosophy "if it ain't broke, don't fix it" and keeps the formula pared down to the basics: Rocky is the underdog, the villain is despicable, and the only way to win is to believe in yourself.

If you think this sounds like apple pie and motherhood, you're on the right track. This time, the villain is a Russian superman known as "Drago" who comes to the United States for a boxing demonstration and promptly sends Apollo Creed to that great boxing ring in the sky. Now we all know that you don't tug on Superman's cape, you don't spit into the wind, and you don't beat up on Rocky's good buddy, especially not when he's wearing his American-flag boxing trunks.

At this point, there's little question that Stallone knows how to create slick, manipulative images that achieve the desired result, so "Rocky IV" is far more interesting as sociology than it is as a film. The characters, so carefully created in the first "Rocky" film, are now cardboard cut-outs of their former selves. In fact, so little needs be set up that Stallone resorts to what are essentially musical videos to fill in the time and flesh out the movie. For all the flashbacks and to cover travel scenes, the turntable is triggered and the rock music begins. The music is performed by everyone, from Kenny Loggins to Gladys Knight to James Brown.

At the end of the film, Stallone delivers a comic-book speech of such screeching political naivete — delivered in a boxer's dialect of "dese, dem and dose" — that most viewers will laugh out loud. Yet, they will still cheer loudly as Rocky pummels the Russian so badly that even the Russian premier stands up and applauds.

What's left? The scariest part of "Rocky IV" is that one of the closing shots of the film is of a young boy who is portraying — you guessed it — the son of Rocky.

YES, YOU CAN!

You may have seen many new satellite earth stations, or "dishes", installed in our area recently and asked yourself, "Are those dishes legal?" or, "Can I have one of those?" Well, happily the answer to both questions is YES. In 1984, the U.S. Congress approved home earth stations designed for the reception of satellite broadcasts. Not only are dishes legal to use, they are affordable, too. You can enjoy the freedom and wide variety of satellite television today.

Water Committee Hits Delay In Deciding Rate Structure

How much are Lake County municipalities willing to pay for Lake Michigan water? That question has been a stumbling block over the past several months for communities belonging to the Central Lake County Water Committee.

The committee, comprised of six member villages, is exploring alternatives to buy water from one or more lakefront communities with their own filtration plants.

Although in recent weeks, the committee has appeared optimistic about its findings on the cost of purchasing water, member communities are still debating an appropriate rate structure if they were to pipe water.

Setting a rate structure would determine exactly how much each community would pay to have the water piped. Thus far, members have not reached a decision on a proposed rate plan, which includes construction costs for a pipeline, operating and maintenance fees, and actual water costs, would be divided equally except for a starting percentage that would be based on the allotment of water in the year 2020.

Under that plan, larger communities including Libertyville and Gurnee would absorb a greater amount of the costs while smaller villages like Mundelein would not. The rate for Grayslake, for example, would be the same as Lake Bluff.

Libertyville Mayor Paul Neal, however, expressed some concern about the proposal. He said he would be interested in a plan to share a percentage of the cost for using the pipeline to a central point between the communities. Member communities would pay for additional costs of piping water to their own villages.

Richard Starkey, Mundelein trustee and committee representative, said the rate structure will have to be "refined and made acceptable" to all committee members before they can proceed with their plan.

In addition to the rate structure, a number of cost studies for various sources of water have not met with approval from committee members.

The committee has looked at a proposal from Highland Park that would include building a pipeline to supply water to the communities.

That plan has drawn a negative reaction from some members who feel that the $1.84 charge per 1,000 gallons is too high.

Libertyville Mayor and committee chairman Paul Neal in the past said that the rate Highland Park would charge was unacceptable.

Other cost studies from Waukegan, Lake Forest, North Chicago and Zion have also been deemed too high by member communities.

Navy League

The Navy League of the United States, Lake County Council, used its "Membership Awards Recognition Dinner" to collect additional toys for the Toys For Tots Campaign. Helping with the campaign were: (from left) Elizabeth Genauraro, sec cadet; James Hotham, regional president; Harold R. Kirchhardt, executive vice president; Roycealee Wood, council president; Capt. B. Angus MacDonald, chief of staff, Naval Training Center, Great Lakes; and James Cash, sea cadet. The recognition dinner was held at the Port-O-Call, Great Lakes Naval Training Center.

It's Easy To Believe: Illinois An Evil Land

by JOHN STEINKE

When I was a youngster in Fort Atkinson, Wis., a century ago, I was taught that Illinois harbored the most insane drivers on the planet and the most corrupt political machine in the Free World.

After living in Lake County for 15 years, nothing has occurred to alter these childhood perceptions. But I never suspected that the tentacles of the Cook County Democratic machine could reach into Lake County to make my life miserable.

Last December, I received a post card from the Chicago Traffic Violations Bureau advising me that I had been issued a $28 citation for a parking violation. What was interesting about this citation is it was written on a vehicle that I had junked months before the alleged violation occurred, and on expired license plates that I have destroyed.

Immediately, I corresponded with this agency explaining that I couldn't have committed any traffic violation on a junked car with nonexistent plates. In addition, my tear-filled letter pointed out that I have NEVER driven an automobile to Chicago in my life. In fact, I am a white knuckled driver hunched over the steering wheel when I have to drive five miles south of Grayslake. My friends and associates will confirm the fact that I wouldn't drive to Chicago at gunpoint. I only visit Wrigley Field via public transportation. Several months after I had returned the ticket, the Chicago Traffic Violations Bureau confirmed that an error had been committed in the issuance of this bogus ticket.

As a former Democrat once said, "There you go again." Guess what I received in the mail last Saturday? You got it. The Chicago Traffic Violations Bureau dispatched me a post card citing me for a $28 parking violation again. This time the ticket recorded my current license plates. The alleged offense occurred on July 2, 1985. On that day, I was fulfilling my occupational responsibilities in Grayslake. Now, I have gone through the hassle of returning the second bogus ticket via registered mail.

Steinke On Politics

Apparently, two Cook County Democratic officials are responsible for my plight: Sheriff Richard Elrod and Circuit Court Clerk Morgan Finley. Supposedly, Elrod's officers issued the tickets while Finley's people attempted to collect the fines on my parking citations. I am confident that some of my 12 readers have shared the same tragic experience with Cook County officials. But I think I have a solution for our problem.

First, let us encourage the Lake County Board to declare war on Elrod, Finley, and Cook County drivers. Second, I want Lake County Sheriff Robert H. "Mickey" Babcox to issue parking citations to both Elrod and Finley. The tickets should be dated Dec. 25. Elrod and Finley should be cited for illegal parking in front of Lakeland Newspapers in the spaces reserved for poison pen columnists. Third, Lake County Circuit Court Clerk Sally Deadrick Coffelt should inform Elrod and Finley that their court date is Sunday, Jan. 5, the date of the first Bear playoff game.

Fourth, Judge William Block should incarcerate them in the crowded Lake County jail for life. Their only reading material should be my column. That will be punishment enough! Fifth, the Sheriff's Dept. should stop all the Cook County drivers at the Lake County line and route them through Hainesville.

MAIL CALL: Amidst the customary hate mail and letter bombs, I received some comments from G.P. Buettner Sr. of Twin Lakes, Wis., written on one of my recent columns. Mr. Buettner scribbled the following message: "Whatever you think! Otto Kerner was the best Gov. Illinois had. They are all full of (it): (Gov.) Big Jim (Thompson) and all before and after."

In 1960, Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley slated Kerner as a blue-ribbon candidate for governor. Kerner was easily elected to two terms (the second time defeating Republican Charles Percy). President Lyndon B. Johnson appointed him to the Federal Court in 1968. Four years later, U.S. Atty. Jim Thompson prosecuted and convicted Kerner as a bribe-taker, a tax cheat, and a perjurer in a race-track bribe scandal.

In 1976, Thompson was elected Illinois Governor with his successful prosecutions of Kerner and other Democratic politicians. Many Republican leaders in western Lake County share Mr. Buettner's perception that Otto Kerner was Illinois' greatest governor. They believe that Kerner was victimized by a political prosecution in order to promote Thompson's gubernatorial and presidential aspirations. One GOP leader told me: "He (Thompson) wanted to send us all to jail."

To Hold Sale

On Friday and Saturday, Dec. 20 and 21, the Round Lake Senior High School Panther Pushers will be holding a bake sale at the First State Bank of Round Lake.

Park Changes Meeting Date

The regularly scheduled Dec. 24 board meeting of the Village of Round Lake Park has been changed to Monday, Dec. 30, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Anderson, Lenzen Pulling Together

Grayslake businessman Larry Lenzen has decided to swing his support over to Avon Twp. Highway Comm. Pat Anderson for the Lake County Board Dist. 4 GOP Primary in March of 1986.

Lenzen, who had earlier announced that he intended to file for the race, is teaming up with Anderson by releasing all of his supporters to the highway commissioner's camp.

"If we were both in the race, we would be competing for the same votes. The chances of one of us winning would be lessened considerably and that's why we're teaming up," Lenzen said.

There are two seats open in Dist. 4, with six candidates vying for those vacancies.

Filing were incumbent Norman Geary (Avon Twp.), Joseph Tobolik (Grant Twp.), Ray Edwards (Antioch Twp.), Charlotte "Char" Kiesgen (Grant Twp.), William "Bill" Mestan (Grant Twp.), and Anderson (Avon Twp.).

"People like Geary and Kiesgen are going to get their votes, which is why Pat (Anderson) and I have to pull our efforts together instead of taking votes away from each other," Lenzen added.

Anderson has excepted Lenzen's support with gratitude. "I welcome the support given by Larry (Lenzen). I think it enhances my chances and it give the residents a clearer choice."

Elected to the highway commissioner's post in April of this year, Anderson believes that he has ability to make positive things happen on the county board.

"I am a good listener and a good communicator. I also have more than 16 years of public service under my belt and I think I can make some positive things happen on that board," Anderson said.

According to Anderson, he has broad-based support throughout the Dist. 4 area.

"I think I have a good chance of winning three of the four townships involved, those being Avon, Antioch and Lake Villa," he said.

As far as Lenzen is concerned, "This is only one election. There will be more in the future where I'll have the chance to run. I just hope this one turns out positively for the residents."

Residents Join Army

Three residents of Mundelein are among nine young people from the Lake County area who joined the Illinois Army National Guard during the month of November.

They are Scott Spaulding, William Burgess and Solomon Viramontes.

For their participation in the guard after one year, they will each be awarded a free, full tuition, four-year scholarship to any of the state-supported schools they choose.

Food Program

"We get busier during the winter time," Williams explained. "People have higher heating and electric bills and winter clothing is more expensive."

Winter is also a time when construction workers are out of work. Williams said, adding that this year a local industry laid off a number off people.

The pantry, which started in July 1982, receives referrals during other times of the year from local churches and civic organizations.

During the Christmas season, donations are welcomed at the First National Bank and Santa's Enchanted Castle.

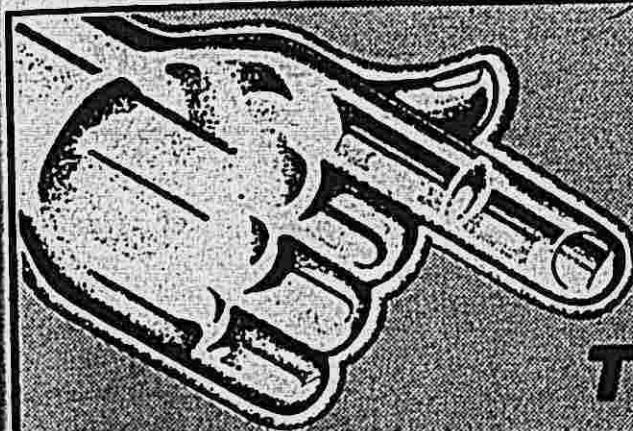

Soccer Team Climbs

The Antioch varsity soccer team began the '85 season with the desire to move up in conference standing, and to improve their non-conference record. They accomplished the second goal but not the first. Their non-conference record was two wins and four losses and we finished seventh in conference.

Team honors were: All

Conference Selections; Mike Todd, Shawn Wiltse; Most Valuable, Greg Werba; Most Improved Player, Scott Anderson; Co-Team Captains, Bret Parkhurst and Shawn Wiltse.

Graham, Calabresa Team Up For Election

Carol Calabresa, Libertyville Twp. trustee and F.T. "Mike" Graham, Libertyville Twp. supervisor and former 14-year county board veteran, will run as a slate for the two open seats in the Lake County Board Dist. 5 GOP primary in March of 1986.

The main reason for the joint campaign is the very compatible attitudes of the two on the problems of runaway development.

Another strong campaign ideal is the belief that taxpayers have been promised and have paid for political leadership on the county board, and are only getting excuses and further political promises.

Both candidates agree that the present board members are too timid and shortsighted to stand up for the good of the county.

Calabresa states that her many involvements in civic groups, school functions, volunteer organizations and as township trustee has given her much first-hand knowledge of the everyday problems that confront all governments.

Calabresa said her deep involvement with the Libertyville Twp. Open Space Dist., the first ever approved in the State of Illinois, gives her more than enough experience to deal with the problems of over-development.

The two areas Graham intends to focus on during his campaign are the gravel mining operation at Peterson Pit in Libertyville Twp. and what appears to be conflict of interest areas with present Dist. 5 board members.

More specifically, Graham added that there seems to be a questionable thread linking a board member's opposition vote as it involved the Midlane Farm for Open Space purposes and its ultimate approval for development.

Also and more obvious, the Martin-Cuneo ties and their relationship to the Cuneo development, etc. demands public exposure and discussion.

Graham said he will insist that a complete outside independent audit, going back three to five years, be conducted of both parties involved in the gravel mining operation.

Graham issued a challenge to any and all opponents to meet in public debate as often as possible to discuss the many major issues which include runaway development, soaring county budgets and pollution.

There has never been a county board campaign with so many issues and such vastly different philosophies of government, Graham concluded.

He is hopeful that "our opponents won't run and hide again as they did during the Cuneo public hearings for fear of being asked to provide leadership ability which they profess to have."

Geary Recovering From Mild Attack

Dist. 4 Lake County Board member and Avon Twp. Sup. Norman Geary is recovering from a mild heart attack he suffered Dec. 9.

Geary was staying in Highland Park Hospital and was scheduled to be released some time this week.

According to Avon Twp. Clerk Virginia Harrington, Geary was suffering from mild chest pains Dec. 9 and admitted himself into the hospital after filing for reelection in the March, 1986 primary for the county board.

Harrington said Geary is "doing excellent and is in good spirits" at the Highland Park facility.

"Things are in very optimistic shape right now. Norm is in good spirits and all of the vital signs are in excellent condition," she said.

CLC has most Merit Scholars

Information just released by the Illinois State Scholarship Commission indicates that the College of Lake County (CLC) has more currently enrolled Illinois State Merit Scholars than any other community college in the state.

There are 16 students currently at CLC who have been awarded the Illinois State Merit Recognition Scholarship of $500.

Those students are:

Dominique Beaudoin, Colleen Reid (Round Lake Beach), Sherry Bird (Grayslake), Susan Boyce, Wendy Dean (Zion), Kimberly Causey, Deann Poulsen, Susan Rayniak, Joan Wawrzyniak (Lake Villa).

Dawn Edwards (Wildwood), Todd Gordon, Laurie Gramer, Marilyn Strzyz (Gurnee), Debra Irvin, Beatrice Murray (Round Lake) and Robert Rampale (Lindenhurst).

The Merit Recognition Scholarship Program encourages and rewards distinguished academic achievement of Illinois high school graduates.

Scholarships are awarded to students who graduate from approved high schools in Illinois with accumulative grade average at or above the 95th percentile of their graduating class.

The scholarship is a $500 award for enrollment at an approved Illinois college or university, which may be renewed once for a total of $1,000.

Former Navy Chief After Barkhausen

Picture a candidate for public office with no friends, no money, no name recognition and no experience. He's a sure loser, right? Wrong! He's running against first term State Sen. David Barkhausen, the original Mr. Bland, the Republican answer to "Have candidate, will travel."

Herb Gorrell, 53, a retired Navy chief gunner's mate who now is employed by the College of Lake County as a technical instructor at the Naval Gunnery School at Great Lakes Naval Training Center, says he is taking on Barkhausen because he believes he can do a better job representing the people.

The decorated Vietnam veteran vows to scour the 30th State Senatorial Dist. that stretches from Grayslake to Buffalo Grove and Barrington to North Chicago in quest of Republicans who want a new look in Springfield from their district.

"I'm not a lawyer," the lanky ex-gob declares. "I'm a conservative and I believe in the U.S. Constitution," continues Gorrell as he outlines a back-to-basics approach to government. "The state and federal government are already doing more for us than we need," remarks Gorrell.

Herb Gorrell

As far as aid to education goes, for example, Gorrell favors more local control of schools which means less reliance on Springfield for funding. And when schools are funded locally, they should have more autonomy, in Gorrell's opinion.

In a novel twist, the former Navy enlisted man's campaign is being headed by Rear Adm. (Rt.) Al Renken of Lake Bluff.

Gorrell says he is proud to have Admiral Renken's support and he adds that this is testament to the fact that he is mounting a serious campaign.

Gorrell resides in an apartment complex in unincorporated Libertyville

Township. He is divorced and the father of three grown children who live in the east.

His previous political experience is confined to working on county-wide campaigns for State's Atty. Fred Foreman, Dr. James Brophy, unsuccessful candidate for coroner, and State Sen. Adele Geo-Karis.

The Republican newcomer reported that he has applied for a leave of absence from CLC beginning in January so that he can devote full-time to the campaign.

The 30th St. Sen. Dist. includes parts of Avon, Warren, Shields and Deerfield township and all of Libertyville, Cuba, Ela, Vernon and West Deerfield townships.

Porter Announces Aid For Schools

Congressman John Porter (R-10th) says that slightly over $3.1 million in federal impact aid for FY 1986 has been approved for four Lake County school districts.

Impact aid is provided to schools near federal installations such as military bases. The funds help to offset the cost of educational services to children whose parents live at Fort Sheridan and Great Lakes Naval Training Center.

"I am pleased the Conference Report on the Dept. of Education's budget included this vital funding," Porter said.

"This was accomplished while holding overall FY 1986 spending for this department at last year's levels. In this instance, we have shown that Congress can address the need to control federal spending, and at the same time fund valuable education programs," he added.

The school districts affected and specific allocations were: Highwood-Highland Park Dist. 111, $668,007; Highland Park Twp. Dist. 113, $65,975; North Chicago Community High School Dist. 123, $592,714; and North Chicago Elementary Dist. 64, $1,783,802.

BUYING A HOME SATELLITE DISH IS COSTLIER THAN YOU THINK.

Before you spend your hard earned money on a satellite receive dish you should learn the facts.

This year popular premium services like HBO and Cinemax will begin scrambling their signals with highly sophisticated electronic encryption devices.

And this new technique won't be limited to just premium services. Many basic cable channels like ESPN, MTV and CNN have announced their intentions to scramble signals.

What does this mean for satellite dish owners?

In addition to paying several thousand dollars for the purchase and installation of a receive dish, it will be necessary to spend hundreds of dollars on descrambling equipment plus pay monthly service fees for each channel received.

Make your decision based on the facts.

Health And Fitness Awareness At Peak

by PAT DE ANGELIS

QUESTION: Health and fitness awareness at a high peak today! Are we really eating healthier today than 15 years ago?

ANSWER: I know there are people in our country who have changed their eating patterns and have improved their individual health.

However, the Wall Street Journal, Sept. 13, 1985 issue had an article stating Americans in general have not actually changed what they eat as much as the movement would have us believe.

The fact that fast food restaurants keep increasing in number and appear to be bars feature high sugar items such as canned fruit, jello, and puddings.

Accurate data on national food consumption is difficult to obtain and retail food sales personnel feel that most Americans are still consuming a high fat, low complex carbohydrate diet.

As I have stated before, the responsibility for a high quality nutritional diet for you lies with you.

You need to be aware of your needs, obtain necessary information facts, and put the information into practice in your daily life. We can not continue to blame the food-manufacturer, sales business people and advertising personnel for our nutritional intake.

These people will sell what people buy, that is the economics of our country. We need to be extra careful in reading labels and asking pertinent questions.

Some of us are being fooled by expert marketing, and some of us are rationalizing knowledge of our optimal needs with practical application abilities.

There most definitely has been some progress in the field of improved quality of food, however there is a long way to go for us to see a major change in our general eating patterns.

Several fast food chains have added salad bars and improved breads and drinks to their standard menus. Managers of these establishments state, however, that the majority of their sales are from their standard menu.

All day salad bars have some negative aspects, especially in keeping the produce fresh and safe for consumption without questionable additives. Also, many salad

Holiday Tragedy

This is the remains of a Cambridge Court mobile home in Round Lake after it was destroyed by a fire that took the lives of five family members. It was the worst fire in at least 20 years in the Round Lake area.—Photo by Jody Lewand.

Cancer Society Offers Stop Aid

Smokers who kicked the habit for the Great American Smokeout and want to stay quit for good face an interesting challenge—the upcoming holiday season, complete with temptations to overindulge, and all kinds of stresses and pressures that might lure new ex-smokers back to cigarettes.

But, the American Cancer Society is offering help to prospective quitters, in the form of a free brochure, "How to Stay Quit through the Holidays."

The brochure offers hints on how new ex-smokers can overcome daily obstacles, avoid partly "jitters" that could lead to a return to cigarettes, cope with crowds, and deal with smoking friends and relatives who might try to force the quitter back into the fold.

Tips on avoiding weight gain, despite the tendency to binge during the holidays, also are included.

The holiday season might not seem like the best time to quit cigarettes, but considering all the celebrating that goes on during this time of year, it might be easier to keep an outlook positive. And, because people are busier at this time, their minds are off cigarettes.

The brochure is available without charge for Kenosha County residents from the American Cancer Society, 6240 Bankers Rd., Racine, WI 53403 or call (414) 552-8022.

Amy Aufmann, a junior at Mundelein High School, has been selected to play in the All-State band at the Illinois Music Educator's Association conference in Peoria. Aufmann is first chair flute in the Mundelein High School Wind Ensemble.

Aufmann was selected from talented flute players throughout the state who also played at the district level festival held at Oak Park - River Forest High School in November.

Aufmann will spend three days downstate rehearsing and performing with other all-state musicians from all over Illinois. She plans to major in music education and performance in college.

Mundelein resident Michael S. McHugh, a Navy Seaman Recruit, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes.

During his eight-week training cycle, McHugh studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields.

Starting Out...Starting Over... Or Starting A New Job...?

There are a lot of reasons why people decide to rent instead of buy. For one thing, a good credit record isn't that easy to establish these days. If you're just starting out, chances are you've never needed credit before now — and you probably don't have a lot of money saved up, either. If you're "starting over" ... well, that's difficult enough in itself, without the added weight of credit hassles and long-term commitments. And if you just started a new job — even though you may be making more money — you may still have trouble getting credit, because most credit agencies put a great deal of importance on how long you've been at your job. That's why, with or without a credit record, we've made it so easy for you to RENT the things you want from RENT-A-CENTER — and still have the option to own! So don't let the high cost of buying get you down: Step up to RENT-A-CENTER today — and have the things you want delivered to your home tonight!

NEXT WEEK'S HOROSCOPE BY SALOME

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) Some minor situations could get out of hand. Avoid confrontations that lead to heated disputes. Compromise is advised except where issues of morality are concerned.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) A choice must be made in the early part of the new year. Ignore what seems easier. Stick to your high standards. You'll encourage others to rise to their potential as well.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) Complications are best handled by making decisions. The odds that you'll choose wisely are in your favor. Don't be afraid to move. Action is preferable to inaction.

Cancer (June 21-Jul. 22) An unexpected problem could cause you to delay a planned trip. Prepare for an alternative way of handling an out-of-town personal or business commitment if necessary.

Leo (Jul. 23-Aug. 22) Caution is the watchword for Leone money matters. Pay outstanding bills as they come due to avoid a serious problem should a possible financial crunch arise to cramp your style.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Time is of the essence as you prepare to move. You'll have to act more quickly than you expected as new situations affect the plans you've made.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) "Give and Take." Keep those three words in mind as you face up to a perplexing personal matter. A more flexible attitude should help clear things up.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Job problems are more easily handled when you make suggestions instead of criticisms. Avoid being negative in your approach. You need allies, not adversaries.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Signs indicate a possible hidden health problem for a loved one. Encourage medical checkups. On the job, a decision finally comes through in your favor.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) A wise Sea Goat is wary of putting all romantic hopes aboard an untested relationship. Wait to see if it can stay afloat in an emotional storm first.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Old influences remain strong. A half-forgotten idea becomes the basis of a much-needed change. Expect a friend from the past to come back into your life.

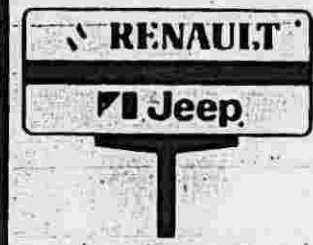

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20) A cheerful attitude masks any misgivings you may have at first and later adds to your feelings of confidence. Continue to build on your achievements.

"I showed Julie Crosby how she could earn $70,304 more at retirement..."

Madeline Schwechter, Senior Customer Service Representative, uses her expertise to help Skokie Federal customers make the most of their money.

"Just because an IRA is opened at one institution doesn't mean that the funds are sentenced to remain there for life. Many people don't realize how easy and profitable it can be to transfer entire IRA funds to higher earning insured accounts... like our 5-Year IRA Bonus Certificate.

"For example, I showed Julie Crosby how she could earn $70,304 more at retirement by transferring all her IRA funds into our 5-Year IRA Bonus CD. She had accumulated $7,280 in an IRA that was due to mature at another institution. Because our 5-year bonus rate is 1/2% higher than what she could get if she simply let her funds rollover, she could earn $505,913 in interest after 32 years rather than $435,609 at the other institution.* By having Julie sign one simple form, we can transfer her funds, and she'll be on her way to retiring $70,304 richer.

"While I may not be able to bring instant wealth to my customers with this kind of advice, I can help them to secure a better future. That makes me proud to be a part of the Skokie Federal team."

*This assumes that she continues to contribute $2,000 annually to her IRA, rates remain constant, and she will earn an average yield of 10.00%. As of December 19, 1985 the rate of our 5-Year Bonus CD is 9.50% yielding 10.11% annually. This rate is subject to change.
